Form Master's comment

John is a cheerful boy who might well improve his grades if he were to apply himself more to his work. He is always cooperative and his friendly attitude is a valuable asset.

Form Master's comment

John has improved in every single subject since last year and I am delighted to read of his success. He is earnest and hard working, but couples this with a sense of humour. John has considerable potential which I know he will develop to the full. A first class effort by a first class boy!

A great improvement!

Form Master's comment

John appears to have been going through a rather less settled phase in which his work has fallen short in some subjects of the high standard he is capable of.
